

Student Worksheet - Flowcharting

All robots need to have programs to make them run. The easiest way to start a program is to firstly have a plan. This plan consists of a flowchart of small steps that make up the entire program. Each step is simple enough that the robot can perform it without too much effort.

Task: Using the blank flowchart below, plan out your daily morning routine, from when you wake up until you get to school.

